Trustee Thomas Bernard Visits Here Next Friday

CSU Trustee Thomas Bernard will tour the campus and meet with administrators and academic deans from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 21. He is founder and chairman of Tomar Financial Corporation in Fresno and chairman of the board of First Investors Bancor. He holds several other top administrative positions with financial concerns. An alumnus of Cal State, Fresno, Bernard holds a term as a trustee until 1989. His appearance is part of the university's effort to acquaint CSU trustees with Cal State, San Bernardino.

Popular Renaissance Festival March 13-15

The popular annual Renaissance Festival and dinner hosted by the Music Department and university Chamber Singers, will recreate the life and times of Michelangelo March 13-15.

A multi-course Italian gourmet feast will be accompanied by music from the late 15th and early 16th centuries. Some of the lyrics and poetry were written by Michelangelo. The Commons will be decked in Italian Renaissance villa decor to set the mood for the dinner theatre. Decorations will include reproductions from the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican. Patrons will be greeted by performers from the Chamber Singers who represent characters from the era, such as Lorenzo the Magnificent and Pope Julius II.

Tickets are $25 per person for the popular event, which traditionally sells out. Seating is limited to 90 diners each evening. More information is available by calling the Music Department at Ext. 7454 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Police Advise On Auto Thefts

Some faculty and staff concern over vehicle security on campus has prompted Quentin Moses (Campus Police) to issue advice on how to protect vehicles from theft and burglary.

Eight petty thefts from vehicles and one burglary of an auto have occurred on campus since September, Moses said. One vehicle was stolen from campus last year, but Cal State, San Bernardino enjoys a relatively low auto crime rate compared with other CSU campuses.

"There is little a car owner can do to stop the determined, professional thief," Moses remarked. "However, safety precautions may help deter thefts, such as parking in a well-lit area, locking all doors, rolling windows up tightly and taking keys when leaving. Additional steps to consider might be installation of an ignition/fuel cut-off switch, hidden under the dash, or an electrical or mechanical alarm system."

Any suspicious activity near vehicles should be reported to Campus Police from a yellow parking lot phone or by calling Ext. 7555. Any questions or suggestions should also be directed to the Department of Public Safety. More information on car theft is available in a brochure, "Lock It or Lose It," at the Student Union, Student Services or Campus Police.

No Holiday

State paid holidays for Lincoln's birthday, which was Wednesday, Feb. 12, and Washington's birthday, Monday, Feb. 17, will be taken during the Christmas season, Dec. 29 and 30, respectively.

Round Table On Civil Rights

"The Civil Rights Movement from a Non-Black Perspective" will be addressed in a Round Table discussion at noon, Thursday, Feb. 20 in the SUMP. The first of a two-part discussion, the forum is part of the university's observance of Black History Month.

Moderated by Dr. Mildred Henry (Education), the panel will be comprised of a San Bernardino minister, the Rev. Gertrude Whetzel, and three other faculty members: Dr. Irvin Howard (Education), Dr. Thomas Meisenhelder (Sociology) and Dr. Louise Burton (Education). A subsequent Round Table discussion of "The Civil Rights Movement from a Black Perspective" Feb. 27 will feature members of the local community with Dr. Henry moderating. Both events are sponsored by the Intellectual Life Committee.

Dracula Subject Of Foreign Film Feb. 22

The 1922 silent film "Nosferatu" and its 1982 German language remake, "Nosferatu the Vampyre," will be shown at 7 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 22 in the Lecture Hall of the Physical Sciences Building as part of the university's foreign film series. The event is free.

Dr. Jorun Johns (German) will discuss the films at the conclusion of the program. According to Dr. Johns, "Nosferatu" was the first screen version of "Dracula," the one on which all later film adaptations were based. The film was called "Nosferatu" and not "Dracula" because the director, F.W. Murnau, did not want to pay royalties to the estate of Bram Stoker, author of "Dracula."

Presidential Memorabilia Shared In Library Talk

Fascinating memorabilia from American presidents will be displayed and discussed by Dr. William Coleman, chair of the Library Associates, at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 16 in the Library. The event is free and open to the public.

Dr. Coleman, a San Bernardino optometrist, has been collecting pieces of American history for 35 years and is regarded as an amateur authority. For his illustrated lecture, he will bring a variety of letters, documents and manuscripts, some framed and others in volumes. The rare pieces will be available for viewing and handling. Among his collection: a typed page from President John F. Kennedy's first manuscript of "Profiles in Courage;" a paycheck issued to Franklin D. Roosevelt for $6750; and ship's papers signed by George Washington and Thomas Jefferson.

Early Music Academy Concert Feb. 24

A concert of early music played on period instruments using authentic, early performance techniques will be presented by the Early Music Academy at 8:15 p.m., Monday, Feb. 24 in the Recital Hall. Admission is $5 for the general public; $3 for students and senior citizens.

Established in 1983, the Early Music Academy is a permanent orchestra of southern California musicians who try to match each work with the instruments and performing styles in use when the music was written. A New York Times critic wrote that the authentic performance movement is "the liveliest and most radical force on the classical music scene today."

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, Ext. 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.
